History.

The music store of N. G. Hamilton & Co. at 93 E. Main street, was thronged all las week by buyers, who were attracted by the extremely favorable bargains offered by this liberal firm. Messrs. Hamilton & Co. report that the business for the week was larger than that for any other week since they have been in business. Among the sales made were half a degen organs and several planes, besides a number of smaller and less expensive musical instruments. Mesers Hamilton & Co. have an established reputation for low prices and satisfactory goods, and this increase in business was the result of their fair and upright manner of doing business. They keep constantly on hand a com-plete line of musical instruments, together 191 a. with all the latest music.

ECHANICS AND WORKINGMEN

Will find in our stock the most serviceable and best constructed shoes in the city. Several months ago we placed a very large order with a leading manufactory for heavy winter shoes to be made during the dull season. These goods are now arriving, and in quality of material and workmanship surpass our expectations. The figures at which they can be sold are surprisingly low. They embrace all styles, grades and sizes for men and boys.
